

Poem Ten

We think
We know
Life should be long
Some of my favorite songs are just
Three and a half minutes
Thank you for your visit
Even for a short dance
Your melody stays
With me
I hum
While driving
While scheduling and surviving
I sing
Remembering
You in my cells
You're in the church bells now
You're the blue
Grackle who just landed at my feet
With wings
That's you
Bringing the breeze right to me
Where I sit
So still
I say thank you.

Serving you
Yummy poems
Words that feed
The heart and soul
